Mysuru, June 7- In yet another addition to the list of full marks scorers in this year's SSLC exam, a city girl has become a top ranker by scoring 625/625 marks in the SSLC exam (2021-22) conducted in April last. M. Inchara

Inchara had secured 621 marks when results were announced on May 19, securing 96 in Kannada, thus falling short by 4 marks. Inchara later applied for a re-count, during which she secured 100 in Kannada, thus catapulting her to the list of top scorers (625/625) of the State. She is the daughter of S. Mahadevaswamy and S. EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

With the Indian drug regulator greenlighting Corbevax as a booster dose for all adults above 18 years who have received two doses of either Covishield or Covaxin as part of primary vaccination, a heterologous booster shot has come a step closer to being administered to people. Though booster shots have been administered since January 10 beginning with healthcare and frontline workers, and people over 60 with comorbidities, India has been using the same vaccine for both primary vaccination and booster (homologous boosting). In clinical trials, a booster dose using a vaccine that is different from the one used for primary vaccination — technically called heterologous boosting — produced higher immune responses when compared with a same vaccine for primary and booster vaccination.

With Corbevax being approved as a heterologous booster based on a poorly designed heterologous booster trial, the drug regulator can be expected to soon greenlight Covishield and Covaxin as heterologous boosters based on the results of the CMC Vellore trial. Especially as the trial clearly demonstrated the advantages of heterologous boosting compared with using the same vaccine for primary vaccination and boosting. While the National Technical Advisory Group on Immunisation (NTAGI) is quite likely to approve Corbevax as a heterologous booster shot without much delay, it remains to be seen whether it greenlights it for all adults above 18 years. Given the greater likelihood of NTAGI approving Corbevax as a heterologous booster, the Government is not likely to side step the expert group, as in mid-March. As booster shots have been rolled out for all adults above 18 years, the Government should not hurry to approve Corbevax without NTAGI's nod. — In Deccan Herald

Spiky fish removed from throat

Thailand: A Thai man recently underwent emergency surgery to have a spiky fish removed from his throat, after it allegedly jumped out of the water and straight into his open mouth.

An angler fisherman almost choked to death after a small fish randomly jumped into his open mouth and got lodged in his throat.

The unnamed man was reportedly spearfishing in a river, and just as he came up for a breath of air, a spikey Anabas fish randomly jumped out of the water and straight into his mouth. As he was in the process of inhaling, the fish got all the way into his throat where it became lodged.

A team of doctors managed to save the man's life by extracting the blood-covered fish during a one-hour operation

"The chances of this happening are very low. I have never seen this kind of case before," Dr. Sermsri Pathompanichrat told.

PM Modi, Sadhguru address event on 'Save Soil Movement'

Huge campaign launched to give soil health cards to farmers, says Prime Minister

New Delhi, June 7 (Agencies)- Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Sunday addressed a programme on 'Save Soil Movement' in New Delhi on the occasion of World Environment Day.

Isha Foundation Founder Sadhguru Jaggi Vasudev also participated in the event held at Vigyan Bhawan in New Delhi. The gathering was first addressed by Jaggi Vasudev. PM Modi's participation in the programme is reflective of the shared concerns and commitment toward improving the health of the soil in India, he said.

PM Modi announced India has achieved the target of 10 percent ethanol blending in petrol five months before the deadline. The policies related to biodiversity and wildlife that India is following today have also led to a record increase in the number of wildlife, PM Modi told the gathering.

"Earlier, our farmers were not aware of soil health. To overcome this problem, a huge campaign was launched to give soil health cards to the farmers in the country. In this year's Budget, we have announced natural farming along the Ganga River Corridor will be promoted," he added.

All the policies introduced by the Centre over the last eight years have enabled environmental protection in some way.

"Be it Swachh Bharat Mission or programmes related to waste to wealth, construction of modern sewage treatment plants in cities under AMRUT mission, or campaign to get rid of single-use plastic or Ganga cleanliness campaign under Namami Gange, India's efforts to protect the environment have been multifaceted," the Prime Minister said.

The Centre launched a global initiative called 'LiFE Movement' Sunday evening.

The Movement was first introduced by Modi during the COP26 Climate Change Summit in Glasgow, this year.

MLC regrets silence of writers and intellects over textbook revision

Mysuru, June 7 (SPN&DM)- Regretting that writers and other intellects were not raising their voices in full against unscientific and irrational revision of school textbooks, which has turned out into a huge row, MLC A.H. Vishwanath said that any wrong decision of a democratically elected Government should be condemned in strong terms.

He was speaking after releasing writer Prof. Basavaraj Naik's work 'Amarashilpi Jakkana mattu Deshabhimani Rayanna' at a programme jointly organised by District Kannada Sahitya Parishat, Kannada Sahitya Kalakoota and Chintana Chittara Prakashana at Kannada Sahitya Bhavan in Vijayanagar First Stage here on Sunday.

Bemoaning that writers, Kannada activists, Seers and such others are not condemning the school textbook revision, probably fearing that they may lose benefits of the Government, Vishwanath also took exception to the language being used by politicians to hit out at each other. The use of such language will bring down the dignity of Kannada, he observed.

Expressing disappointment that there are no public debates going on regarding the pros and cons of the recently introduced Anti-Conversion Law, the MLC wanted to know why Seers representing different castes were silent on the issue, when the law had many shortcomings.

Questioning why members of various Kannada bodies including Kannada Sahitya Parishat were silent when great personalities such as Kuvempu, Basavanna and Dr. Ambedkar are being insulted, he said that they should at least question the Government's actions on textbook revision at least now, before it is too late.

Vishwanath also argued that just like Vachana Sahitya, Bandaya Sahitya, Dalit Sahitya and the like, political literature too should be given a place in literary space.

Writer H.S. Renukaradhya, District Kannada Sahitya Parishat Mysuru President Maddikere Gopal, Kannada Sahitya Kalakoota President M. Chandrashekar, Chintana Chittara Prakashana's Ningaraju Chittannanavar, District Sharana Sahitya Parishat Mysuru President Dr. Helavarahundi Siddappa and others were present on the occasion.

'Without Constitution, I would not have become CM'

Mysuru, June 7 (GA&DM)- Maintaining that he would not have become the Chief Minister but for the Constitution, Opposition Leader and former Chief Minister Siddharamaiah alleged that the RSS (Rashtriya Seva Sangha) has not accepted the Constitution and as such it was talking about changing it.

Siddharamaiah

He was interacting with members of University of Mysore Research Students Association as part of the Congress party's campaign for the Legislative Council polls from South Graduates Constituency, at a private hotel here on Sunday.

Contending that any Government in power should function in accordance with the provisions of the Constitution, Siddharamaiah said that Keshav Hedgewar established the RSS in 1928 and since then no backward class leader has climbed the top rung of the ladder in that organisation.

Arguing that only upper caste people were in the hierarchy of the RSS, the former CM wondered why there was no backward or oppressed class leader in the RSS top brass. Accusing the RSS of strengthening the class system, Siddharamaiah opined that it was beyond imagination the fate and future of the country's population, had not the Constitution came into being.

Noting that any attack on the Constitution can be construed as an assault on the lower strata of the society, Siddharamaiah charged Prime Minister Modi of mismanaging the country's economy. Accusing the Centre of meting out a step motherly attitude towards Karnataka, he said that the State has been given only Rs. 4.5 lakh crore out of the Rs.19 lakh crore GST payments.

Lashing out at MP Pratap Simha, Siddharamaiah said that the country's debts was Rs. 53 lakh crore when Modi came to power in 2014. But in just eight years under Modi, the debts has mounted to Rs. 155 lakh crore, he claimed adding that the country cannot afford such a huge burden of loans, for which the BJP alone is responsible.

Former Minister Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa, who also spoke, appealed the electorate to cast their votes in favour of Congress candidate Madhu G. Madegowda as he is the right choice for representing the educated voters in the Legislative Council.

Siddharamaiah later held a meeting with Congress leaders at his residence in Ramakrishnanagar later in the day, during which he discussed and detailed out poll strategy for ensuring the victory of Madhu G. Madegowda.

Congress candidate Madhu G. Madegowda, MLA Tanveer Sait, former MLAs M.K. Somashekar and Vasu, former MLC R. Dharmasena and a host of other Congress leaders were present.

My parents are residing on 8th Main Road, Jayalakshmipuram, behind BM Hospital where there is a park which has been badly neglected. This park is being used by many senior citizens for morning and evening walks.

The cobbled stones have come out and has made the walking path very uneven and dangerous for senior citizens.

Also, there is no proper lighting which is not safe after 6 pm.

On behalf of the citizens, I request the authorities concerned to do the needful at the earliest to prevent anyone from falling down and hurting themselves.

Narayana Hospital helps 25-year-old win her battle against Chronic Budd-Chiari Syndrome

Patient treated using the most innovative DIPS procedure

Narayana Multispeciality Hospital Clinical Director Dr. M.N. Ravi (centre) flanked by Dr. Satheesh Rao and Dr. Shailesh Pene during the press meet at Pathrakarthara Bhavan in city recently.

Mysuru, June 7- Twenty-five-year-old Niveditha (name changed) has been relieved of Chronic Budd-Chiari Syndrome, a rare condition, by the doctors at Narayana Multispeciality Hospital in Mysuru.

The patient was treated using DIPS procedure (Direct Intrahepatic Portocaval Shunt), the latest and the most innovative treatment modality for the condition.

Budd-Chiari Syndrome is a condition in which the liver veins are blocked or narrowed by a clot or inflammation. It is caused by Myeloproliferative disease, Sickle Cell disease, abdominal infection and at times pregnancy.

Symptoms of this disease are pain in the upper abdomen, jaundice, bleeding in the esophagus, enlarged and tender liver, hepatic encephalopathy, vomiting and fluid accumulation in abdomen.

Niveditha was suffering from swelling of abdomen since one year. As days progressed the swelling started and she consulted a doctor. As advised, Niveditha underwent fluid removal process for almost a year but her condition did not improve. This bothered the family and they started searching for a quality healthcare provider. The search led them to Narayana Hospital (NH). Niveditha was admitted under Dr. Satheesh Rao and team which conducted a CT scan, endoscopy and MR venogram and, it was revealed that she was suffering from Chronic Budd-Chiari Syndrome.

The most followed treatment modality for this Syndrome is anticoagulants (blood thinners) if the disease is identified early. But, if diagnosis is late, it will call for either TIPS (Transjugular Intrahepatic Portosystemic Shunt) whereby the blood is re-routed from blocked veins. If all hepatic veins are completely blocked, TIPS may not be possible.

In this case, the condition had led to blockage of veins and doctors advised DIPS. The procedure was successful and the patient was shifted to ward within two days. The patient becomes the first to have undergone DIPS procedure in Mysuru.

Elaborating about the case, Dr. Shailesh Pene, NH, said, "In the case of Niveditha her Chronic Budd-Chiari Syndrome had progressed and affected her Hepatic Veins. Performing any intervention in such a circumstance is a high risk one. But owing to the team's (including anaesthetist) deep expertise in managing complex cases we were successful."

Dr. M.N. Ravi, Clinical Director, said "NH Health City in Mysuru is a comprehensive facility and we are happy we offer latest advances in medicine as affordable solutions to people."

Legislative Council Polls from South Graduates Constituency and RS Polls

'I am ready for an understanding with Congress to take on BJP'

Mysuru, June 7 (MTY&DM)- Ahead of Rajya Sabha (RS) polls on June 10, former Chief Minister and senior JD(S) leader H.D. Kumaraswamy (HDK) has launched a fresh round of tirade against former Chief Minister and senior Congress leader Siddharamaiah.

Addressing a press meet at the Office of K.R. Nagar MLA S.R. Mahesh on Ramavilas Road here this morning, Kumaraswamy, who is in the city since yesterday for campaigning on behalf of the party candidate for the Legislative Council polls from South Graduates Constituency H.K. Ramu, accused Siddharamaiah of indirectly helping the BJP by fielding the Congress party's second candidate for the RS polls.

Noting that the JD(S), which has 32 MLAs, has fielded Kupendra Reddy as the party candidate and the Congress could have reached on a quid pro quo understanding with the JD(S) in order to defeat the BJP candidate for the fourth seat, Kumaraswamy alleged that Siddu thwarted any attempts of reaching an understanding between the two Opposition parties.

Holding Siddu responsible for the BJP securing over a hundred seats in the 2018 Assembly polls, HDK wanted Siddharamaiah to remove all filth in his mind and thus create a conducive atmosphere for throwing out the BJP from power in the forthcoming Assembly polls.

Former Chief Minister and senior JD(S) leader H.D. Kumaraswamy addressing a press meet in city this morning as others look on.

"I am ready for an understanding with the Congress to take on the BJP in RS polls. On one hand Congress leaders accuse the BJP Government as 40 percent Commission Government and on the other the Congress is indirectly helping the BJP by fielding its second candidate. The JD(S) is willing to exchange the second preferential votes with the Congress, provided the Congress responds favourably. Siddharamaiah, who is speaking of conscience votes, should first question his own conscience," he said while reiterating that the first priority of the JD(S) is to defeat the BJP.

Replying to a question on the prospects of the JD(S) in the South Graduates Constituency, HDK said that the party is getting favourable response in all the four districts that come under the Constituency. BJP's Raghu Kautilya files petition

HC serves summons to MLCs

Dr. Thimmaiah and Manjegowda

Bengaluru, June 7- The Karnataka High Court (HC), which accepted a petition filed by defeated BJP candidate Raghu R. Kautilya, on Monday issued summons to Congress MLC Dr. D. Thimmaiah and JD(S) MLC C.N. Manjegowda.

Raghu had filed the petition questioning the election of the two MLCs in the Legislative Council polls from the twin-member Mysuru-Chamarajanagar seat held in December last.

Raghu contended that Congress candidate Dr. Thimmaiah and JD(S) candidate Manjegowda had not submitted details of their assets and also about any cases that were pending against them in Courts. Raghu had also claimed that the non-submission of asset details was a big lapse on the part of the two candidates and he had complained about this to the Electoral Officer then itself, but to no avail. He also sought disqualification of the two MLCs on these grounds and declare him (Raghu) as elected.

The High Court, which heard Raghu Kautilya's petition, issued summons to the two victorious candidates and posted the next hearing in the case to June 27, it is learnt.

Stinking Suburban Bus Stand smell greets people

Mysuru, June 7 (GA&TRR)- The roads in front of the Suburban Bus Stand on Bengaluru-Nilgiri (BN) Road is emanating stinking smell forcing citizens to close their noses while passing through the area. In addition, the big potholes on these roads are giving invitation to road mishaps.

Hundreds of buses move to and from the Suburban Bus Stand which is in the heart of the city and thousands of people from across the districts and States commute every day. But the roads in front of Bus Stand is surrounded by stinking smell emanating from drainage water.

People who come to bus stand and those who travel on BN Road have to close their nose, not fearing COVID but because of the stinking and nauseating smell.

Right at the exit point of the Suburban Bus Stand where buses leave for their destinations is a huge hole filled with drainage water. Though it is covered with a slab and a barricade placed across it, they are of no use as there is another hole adjacent to it filled with drainage water.

"Things have not changed since three months despite lodging complaints. If small children step into these holes accidentally, they are sure to get injured," said anxious local traders.

As if to add to people's woes, there is a big UGD line beneath the big trees on the other side, near the road divider. Nobody knows from where this UGD water is coming from. UGD water flows continuously below the big trees and gets filled in the hole.

Traffic Cops close potholes

Thousands of vehicles daily pass through this road where big potholes pose grave threat to the lives of commuters.

Incidents of road mishaps because of these potholes have been reported many times. It is difficult to pass through this road during rainy season.

Observing all this, the Traffic Police on their own have taken steps to fill the holes using the debris of construction buildings.

Bommai flays Siddharamaiah on textbook row

Bengaluru, June 7 (UNI)- Saying his Government was "ready to rectify the mistakes", Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Monday accused Congress leader Siddharamaiah of politicking over every issue including the disbanding of the Textbook Revision Committee.

"It is not the first time the Textbook Revision Committee has been dissolved. Siddharamaiah is politicking in everything," he told reporters here.

Siddharamaiah had said that it was not enough to dissolve the Committee but withdraw the revised textbook too.

Countering the Congress leader, Bommai said: "It has happened many times in the past. Did they withdraw the revised text? They should not create confusion unnecessarily. We have an open mind on this issue. We are ready to rectify the mistakes. We will rectify and reprint the textbooks."

Youths should cultivate habit of questioning: ZP Deputy Secretary

Mysuru, June 7 (GA&TRR)- "A nation's future will be bright only when its youths question the mistakes committed by the society," opined Mysuru Zilla Panchayat (ZP) Deputy Secretary Dr. Premkumar.

He was speaking at the concluding ceremony of the Physical Fitness Camp jointly organised by the Mysuru Group National Cadet Cops (NCC), Department of Youth Empowerment and Sports (DYES), NCC Alumni Association students and the University of Mysore on Saturday.

"The age between 15-21 is a period when the mind is very curious to explore in life and if you are active during this period in the fields of education, sports and other cultural activities, it will help you to achieve something in your life. Changes will also take place in your body during the period. It is the age which is rebellious in nature and want to do things which they are not supposed to. So, take good decisions in this period," he advised.

"Your hard work in these 5-6 years will ensure a quality life for the next 50 years. Select your field of interest and don't lose your focus and divert your attention to other unnecessary matters. You need to look back at our ancient culture in this period and decide what is good and bad. Cultivate the habit of studying our country's culture and politics even if you don't want to enter politics. If you understand the history of politics, fundamental rights and duties in a Democracy, you can move in the right direction and caution the society and system when they commit mistakes," added Dr .Premkumar.

Conman uses Chamarajanagar student's bank account to cheat people in Tumakuru, Gujarat

Fraudster lures with easy money and links his mobile number to student's bank account

Chamarajanagar, June 7 (SS&BCT)- Online fraudsters are using ingenious means to commit crimes and one such way is to ask a person to open a new bank account and link the same with the mobile number provided by the fraudsters. While duping after obtaining the One Time Password (OTP) has become common, opening bank accounts in the name of others has become a new trend.

These are first-party frauds that involve accounts opened by a legitimate person. This person may be the actual fraudster or someone the criminal has manipulated the person into acting as a front for the online fraud.

A student from Chamarajanagar has filed a Police complaint at District Cybercrime, Economic Offences and Narcotics (CEN) Police that his bank account has been used to commit online fraud. Also, cases have been booked against him in Tumakuru and Gujarat.

Twenty-year-old M. Pavan Kumar was contacted by fraudsters through Instagram and they came up with an attractive proposition to earn money without investing anything. As per the proposition, fraudsters sent messages to Pavan Kumar to just open a bank account and link the same with the mobile number provided to him as part of the bank's KYC (Know Your Customer) process.

Fraudsters know that banks and financial institutions monitor new account activity for a period and perform ongoing due diligence as part of KYC policy. Therefore, they will make the new account opening process legitimate after furnishing all the data to the banks.

Trusting the messages, Pavan Kumar opened an account on Apr. 18 at HDFC Bank, Kollegala, as directed in the messages sent to him. The bank sent him a passbook and ATM card on Apr. 23. Pavan Kumar confirmed to the fraudster that the account has been opened and he has received the passbook and ATM card.

KYC application

The fraudster then asked Pavan Kumar to give a KYC application to the bank and link the bank account with the mobile number 77957-29103. The fraudster did not come face-to-face but communicated with the student through messages. The conman promised him good returns after the account was linked with the phone number.

But on May 26, the staff from HDFC Bank called Pavan Kumar to inform him that his bank account has been used to cheat people (money transfers) in Tumakuru and Gujarat. As the account in his name has been used for fraudulent transactions, the bank told the student that his account would be frozen. A case also has been booked against Pavan Kumar.

Shocked by these developments, the student has lodged a complaint with Chamarajanagar CEN Police. A Police officer told Star of Mysore that once the mobile number-linked account details are handed over to the fraudsters, they indulge in crime to take away money from the victims and deposit in these accounts. They will immediately withdraw the money even before the banks act on the fraudulent accounts.

Even the SIM cards in such dealings are obtained through fraudulent means and only the innocent persons in possession of the SIM card and the bank account are caught while the real culprits vanish and it is difficult to trace them.

Police launch awareness campaign against begging

Mysuru, June 7 (MK&BCT)- Begging is one of the most serious social issues and it is a well-organised mafia nexus that uses little children and their innocence as a tool to run its business. Children are kidnapped, drugged, beaten and forced to do beggary at traffic signals, main roads and junctions.

In an effort to put an end to this menace, City Police Commissioner Dr. Chandragupta and DCP (Crime & Traffic) M.S. Geetha Prasanna have asked their teams to conduct awareness programmes in those areas where begging is rampant.

The teams later identified Yellamma Colony and Saibaba Colony under Mandi Police Station from where most of the beggars come to the city areas. As part of the campaign, Devaraja ACP M.N. Shashidhar recently conducted a meeting with the residents of Yellamma Colony & Saibaba Colony. Representatives from Women's Police Station, Anti-Human Trafficking Wing and Children's Special Unit Police attended the meeting.

Residents were sensitised on combating the problem of child beggary in city and the need to intimate Child Helpline 1098 after coming across such kids. Residents were told that there is a need for community responsibility to eradicate the problem. The mafia behind running child begging rackets will be dealt with and there is an organised 'syndicate' behind the mafia. There are laws or Govt. schemes for rehabilitation of children who often go back to begging once rescued. They were made aware of different schemes that are available at grassroots level to prevent begging.

The colony residents were exhorted not to send women and children from their localities for begging. Police will rescue such children and Child Welfare Committee will take necessary steps to ensure safety of the rescued children, Police said.

Women's Police Inspector Aruna Kumari, Arundhati and Apekshitha from District Child Rescue Unit, Shankar from Block Education Office, Mysuru North, Anganwadi Supervisor Sumithra, Destitute Home Warden Shivakumar, Childline-1098 Co-ordinator Shashikumar and Prasannakumar from Children's Special Unit Police were present.

Terminated contract Music Varsity staff hope to get justice during CM's visit to city

Mysuru, June 7 (SBD&DM)- Even as the indefinite stir launched by the removed contract staff (Non- teaching) of the city-based KSGH Music and Performing Arts University on Monday completed 108 days, the retrenched staff are hoping against hope that they will get justice during the Chief Minister's visit to city tomorrow (June 8).

Deeply dejected after the KSGH Music Varsity authorities relieved them of their duties all of a sudden in February last without any notice, the terminated contract staff had launched the indefinite stir in front of the Music Varsity campus in Lakshmipuram a few days later.

The aggrieved staff had submitted memorandums to Housing Minister V. Somanna, MP Pratap Simha, Nanjangud MLA B. Harshavardhan and several other elected representatives seeking fulfilment of their demands which chiefly included reinstatement of all terminated staff, release of 14-month salary dues and revision of wages among others. But all this has gone in vain so far as their demands remain unaddressed.

Now, they are hoping that the CM's visit to city will bring their woes to an end, at least by June 21, when International Day of Yoga (IDY) event will take place in city with the participation of Prime Minister Modi and also as the day (June 21) happens to be World Music Day as well.

WORD OF THE DAY

Junket

Pronunciation: JUNK-ut.
Meaning: Junket refers to a trip that is paid for by someone else, such as a promotional trip made at another's expense, an official's trip made at public expense.
Origin: Junket has travelled a long road, and its journey began with a basket made of rushes—that is, marsh plants commonly used in weaving and basketwork. The Latin word for "rush" is juncus, which English borrowed and adapted into various forms until settling on junket. That word was used in English to name not just the plant and the baskets made from the plant, but also a type of cream cheese made in rush baskets. Since at least the 15th century, the word has named a variety of comestibles, ranging from curds and cream to sweet confections. (Junket even today also names a dessert.) By the 16th century, junket had come to mean "banquet" or "feast" as well. Apparently, traveling must have been involved to reach some junkets because eventually the term broadened to apply to pleasure outings or trips, whether or not food was the focus. Today, the word usually refers either to a trip made by a government official and paid for by public, or to a free trip by a member of the press to a place where something, such as a new movie, is promoted.
Example: "'It was very unexpected,' [Sam Raimi] says, speaking during the 'Doctor Strange' press junket over the weekend. He attributes the success of the genre to the source material by artists such as Stan Lee and Steve Ditko, and also to Marvel Studios, 'which has given great attention to the characters' detail,' he says." — Adam Graham, The Detroit News, 3 May 2022

THE ODD WORD

Jagger

Toothed chisel.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Jaywalk

Meaning: You use the term 'Jaywalk' to describe the act of crossing the street in a non-designated area, usually between signals.
Origin: The term 'jaywalk' came into use in America, sometime between 1910 and 1920. The "jay" portion of the word has to do with boldness and impudence of the type commonly associated with jaybirds.
Example: "If you jaywalk, you're likely to be hit by a car."
